

A scatter plot on a white background with a black border. It contains a large, dense cluster of blue points. The cluster has an irregular shape, with a long tail extending towards the upper left. Within the central, most dense part of the cluster, there are two red points. The rest of the plot area is empty.